

Scarborough and Ryedale Clinical Commissioning Group - New website

During the past few months the Scarborough and Ryedale CCG website has been re-developed, with the aim to ensure it more user friendly and easy to navigate.

Early feedback on the new website design is positive with clinicians. Work has also been done with the lead for Learning Disabilities and also with Yorkshire Coast Sight Support to ensure that the website will support users with disabilities. We are now in the final stages of testing the website and would appreciate your views on the contents and how easy it is to navigate.

To view the new website please follow the link: <http://build8.auracreativemedia.co.uk/>

It would be appreciated if you are able to look through the new website and answer the questions below. If you could please return the form to us no later than Friday 29 March 2019.

Please return your feedback form to Alex Flowers email: alex.flowers@nhs.net

We look forward to hearing your views

1. Do you currently use the Scarborough and Ryedale CCG website?

- Yes
- No

If no, why is this? And what would make you more likely to use it?

2. After testing the new site, do you find it easy to navigate?

3. Does all of the terminology/ wording on the new website make sense? Or is there anything that could be amended in this regard?

4. Is there anything that isn't on the site that you think should be?

5. Do you have any further comments about the website?

Thank you for your feedback
